

WESTCHESTER TENNIS CENTER

Westchester Tennis Center is excited to announce the hiring of Igor Supica as Co-Director of High Performance! We continue to strive to upgrade our staff, and the hiring of Igor is another example of Westchester Tennis Center's continuing commitment to the best tennis coaching in the New York/Connecticut area.

Igor hails from Zagreb, Croatia where he was ranked one of the top 10 juniors in the country. He attended Graceland College and Northeastern State University where he earned a degree in Psychology. He has been coaching for more than 20 years, including 15 years at the highly acclaimed Robbie Wagner Tournament Training facility on Long Island.

Igor throughout his teaching career has coached sectional, nationally, and internationally ranked Juniors. Some of his students have gone on to elite academic/tennis institutions such as Stanford, the University of Texas, and Williams College. He is a USPTA Elite Professional and has traveled extensively with the ITF Junior Circuit. Igor is passionate about getting the most out of his players and instilling a life-long love of the game in every student that he teaches.
